JoLLE Conference

The JoLLE@UGA 2018 Winter Conference was chaired by Stephanie Renee Toliver and T. Hunter Strickland. The theme was Reframing Pedagogical Practices and Language and Literacy Research: Teaching to the Future. Keynote speakers were Ebony Elizabeth Thomas and Donalyn Miller; in addition, the conference featured a plenary session from Eurydice Stanley, Elizabeth Eckford, and Grace Stanley.

Awards

This conference was awarded the S.O.A.R. Award for Commitment to Social Justice to go with the S.O.A.R. Award for Organizational Improvement.

Innovations and New Features

During this period, JoLLE invested its budget in Submittable, an online manuscript submission process, to increase efficiency and efficacy of the JoLLE manuscript submission process. Similarly, the Communications Editor increased the reach of JoLLE on social media platforms through the use of the online content development platform, Hootsuite.

In the fall of 2018, Stacia L. Long was Principal Editor with Alexandra Lampp Berglund as Managing Editor. Together, they launched JoLLE's first formal External Review Board that was composed of graduate students and early career faculty from local, national, and international universities. The new External Review Board enabled JoLLE to return manuscripts to authors with high quality feedback.

Manuscript Submission and Acceptance

In 2018, JoLLE received 83 manuscripts. 45% of these manuscripts received do not publish decisions, 40% were revised and resubmitted, and 16% were accepted. The average turnaround time for manuscripts was 31 days.
